

THE PERFECT LOCATION FOR YOUR PRIVATE EVENT IN FLORENCE

The history of today's Palazzo Borghese Aldobrandini began in the mid-15th century, when the Salviati brothers, decided to merge them, creating a single aristocratic building. The work of renovation and enlargement continued until around the early 16th century. The Salviati family, however, having become marquises in the meantime and obtained the palace, entrusted a second complete renovation to the architect Gherardo Silvani (1579 -1675). Following Anna Salviati's marriage to Roman Prince Marcantonio IV Borghese, many of the Salviati's possessions passed to Prince Camillo Borghese, who took up temporary residence at the palace in the aftermath of his marriage to Pauline Bonaparte. The wealthy Prince renovated the structure again on the occasion of the wedding of Grand Duke Ferdinand III to Princess Maria Ferdinanda of Saxony in May 1821, entrusting the work to the young architect Gaetano Baccani. After Prince Borghese's death, the palace was inherited by other well-known Florentine families, until in 1843, the owner decided to offer the entire second floor of the building for the construction of the "Casino di Firenze" which remained in operation for more than 150 years until it became a private event location to this day
